

WEEKLY HERALD

SATURDAY, JULY 4, 1875.

Large blocks or every description are sent and printed to order at this office. Job work of all kinds is made to order.

(From Wednesday's Daily Herald.)

In the case of H. C. Miller vs. John McNeal et al., tried before Special Judge W. E. Hughes, judgment was yesterday given in favor of plaintiff.

(From Thursday's Daily Herald.)

Several of our citizens are making preparations to either visit Thomas Springs or send their families there for the summer.

The Supreme Court having reversed the decision in the case of Ed Newman, he was yesterday set at liberty, paying off a bond in the sum of eighteen hundred dollars.

(Personal.)

Mr. E. R. Briggs, Miss Nannie Briggs, Miss Thompson and Captain Anderson, of Waxahachie, arrived in the city this morning. The party, with the exception of Captain Anderson, are on a pleasure trip to Louisville, Kentucky, where they will remain until Fall. The HERALD commands him to the favorable notice of its readers as a man every way worthy of their confidence.

Personal.

Captain W. H. Gaston left the city last evening for a two week's hunt in Van Zandt County.

Colonel D. McNease left last evening for Houston, where he will take up his permanent residence.

Colonel D. B. Culverton, of Jefferson, member of Congress, left from the Fourth District, arrived in the city Wednesday evening, and is a guest of the San Jacinto.

Philip Lindley, Esq., recently of Nashville, Tennessee, has opened a law office on Elm street, in this city, and presents his business card to the readers of THE HERALD to-day. Mr. Lindley was a prominent and rising member of the legal fraternity in Nashville, and was a representative in the Legislature of that state in 1873-74, being the second term of General John C. Breckinridge's administration, to which city he was elected as an independent conservative candidate by the largest vote any man ever received in his county, and on the meeting of the Legislature came within a few votes of being chosen Speaker of the House. At the same time he was President of the Board of Common Council of the city of Nashville. His father-in-law, the late Chancellor Henry Dickinson, of Columbus, Mississippi, is remembered in the esteem of every Mississippian.

Texas. Mr. Lindley has come among us to stay and to cast his future fortunes in our great and growing State. THE HERALD commands him to the favorable notice of its readers as a man every way worthy of their confidence.

District Civil Court.

The following cases were disposed of during the current week.

Gillespie vs. Sedwick and Elliott, dismissed.

Martin vs. Sanger Brothers; dismissed and case dismissed.

Cooper vs. Sanger Brothers; dismissed and case dismissed.

Miller vs. McNeill; verdict for plaintiff.

Harris vs. Bower; judgment for plaintiff.

Wheeler vs. Houston and Texas Central Railroad Company; compromised.

Schoellkopf vs. Smith et al.; judgment for plaintiff.

George Parker vs. Houston and Texas Central Railroad; not concluded.

Court took up the case of Marion A. Smith vs. George Parker, with judgment for the party who brought suit and afterward put off the trial of a negro boy, a few miles from this city, in January last. After hearing the evidence, the court admitted Bill to bail him out, and the negro boy was released on his own recognizance.

Eastman vs. Eastman, suit for divorce granted.

Greer vs. Houston and Texas Central Railroad; compromised.

Olin Wellborn et al. vs. McDowell et al.; judgment for plaintiff.

George Parker vs. Houston and Texas Central Railroad; not concluded.

Court took up the case of Marion A. Smith vs. George Parker, with judgment for the party who brought suit and afterward put off the trial of a negro boy, a few miles from this city, in January last. After hearing the evidence, the court admitted Bill to bail him out, and the negro boy was released on his own recognizance.

Now don't think that we are coming to you with "soft impeachment," but really that may be preferred against us on the score of susceptibility, but really we can not conclude this little communication without specially alluding to the "soft impeachment" effect that blighted themselves around that sly-like little lady, Miss Sally Campbell, who gave to "In Waiting" a touch of pathos, a melodious fragrance, meaning and a personal touch to the whole story. Miss Agnes Lyle was especially graceful beyond description in the part she bore in the programme, as was also, Mrs. Mary Simpson, who rendered the "Maid in the Mill" so perfectly. She was beautiful than when she was first introduced to the world by Lord Byron. We were never fond of strolling—not because we are disposed to laziness, oh no!—but because we are fond of the "soft impeachment" that it would have been impossible for us to have resisted an invitation to promote the labyrinthine with the "soft impeachment" of this little song bird, whose rendition of her part was most excellent indeed. But we have said too much already, notwithstanding the contents of our paper, and will not say more, except for the present, adieu. With our next communication we would like to send a dainty bit of cake, but we are not susceptible, oh no!
